

I write to oppose the Consumer Bankers Association trade action in this matter. As an Indiana resident, I appreciate the effort of my Attorney General's office to protect my privacy. As a private citizen, I expect the same effort from the FCC. An "established business relationship" with my bank does not give it the right to bother me at home with phone calls selling bank services, unrelated services with companies it has established a financial relationship with, etc. My home is my castle. I demand the privacy I am due. I request that the FCC deny this petition from CBA.
